Erin,
I said I'd get you something last Friday..., sorry for the delayed response.

I'm not sure where you could publish your RFP. Perhaps going to the American Society of Civil engineers (ASCE) would be a good place.

The Oregon section of ASCE has a local environmental chapter named the Environmental & Water Resources Group.

You could also try the NW Environmental Business Council.

I think you may find a lot of companies are conflicted out.

Chip, Eric, and Jim,

I am wondering if you have suggestions for technical publications that might be good places to publish the Tribes' notice of the RFP to solicit proposals for Portland Harbor. Are there publications that are widely read by remediation specialists, etc?
